Team Communication

Weekly Meeting: At the beginning of the year, I ask that you meet with me to touch base about any questions, comments or concerns that you have in the classroom. This time is for you. Judgment free. You can say anything or ask me anything in an adult manner. I will address your concerns once I have time to reflect on them and give you an appropriate answer; it may not be in that moment. I will also be able to find answers to your questions after I do some research. Be patient, you will get feedback from these meetings. We will set up times at the beginning of the year as to what works with the students schedule and your schedule. As the year progresses, I will check in every so often, and you can approach me whenever you need, but the weekly meetings are less needed.

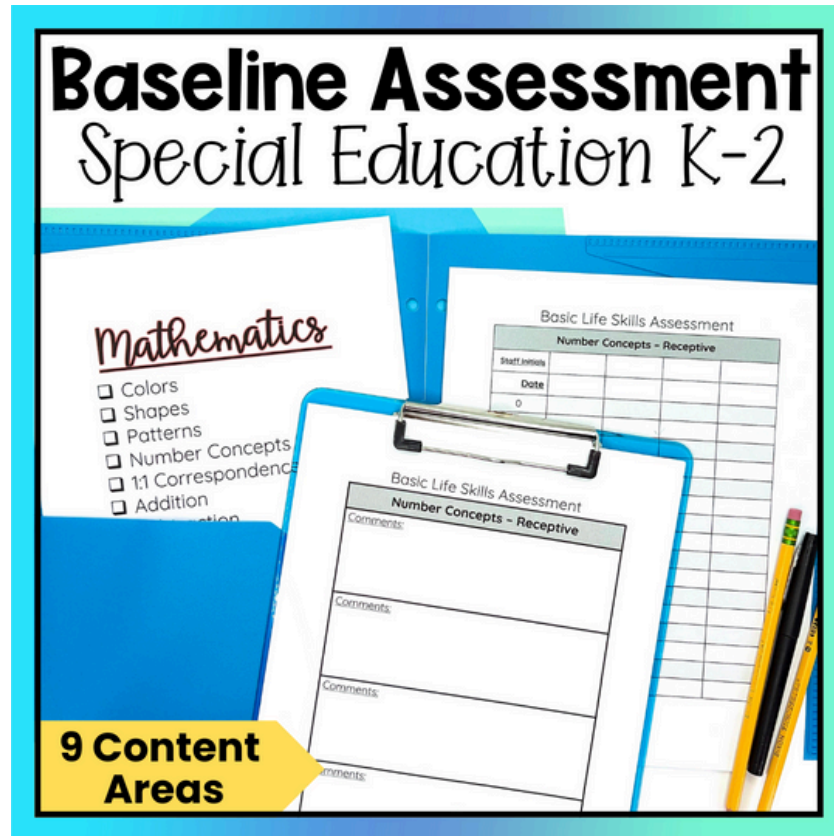

Concerns and/or Questions: You can feel free to call or text me after work, use a post-it note and put it in my desk, send me an email or wait to talk to me in person at the weekly meeting. Whatever is easier for you!
Urgent concerns should be addressed and discussed before or after the students are at school.
