

Predictable Chart Writing Lessons

AAC
Weather

10 WRITING PROMPTS

Check this out!

Use this in your special education classroom to teach foundational writing skills through predictable sentences prompts using AAC weather words!

Why?

Predictable Chart Writing

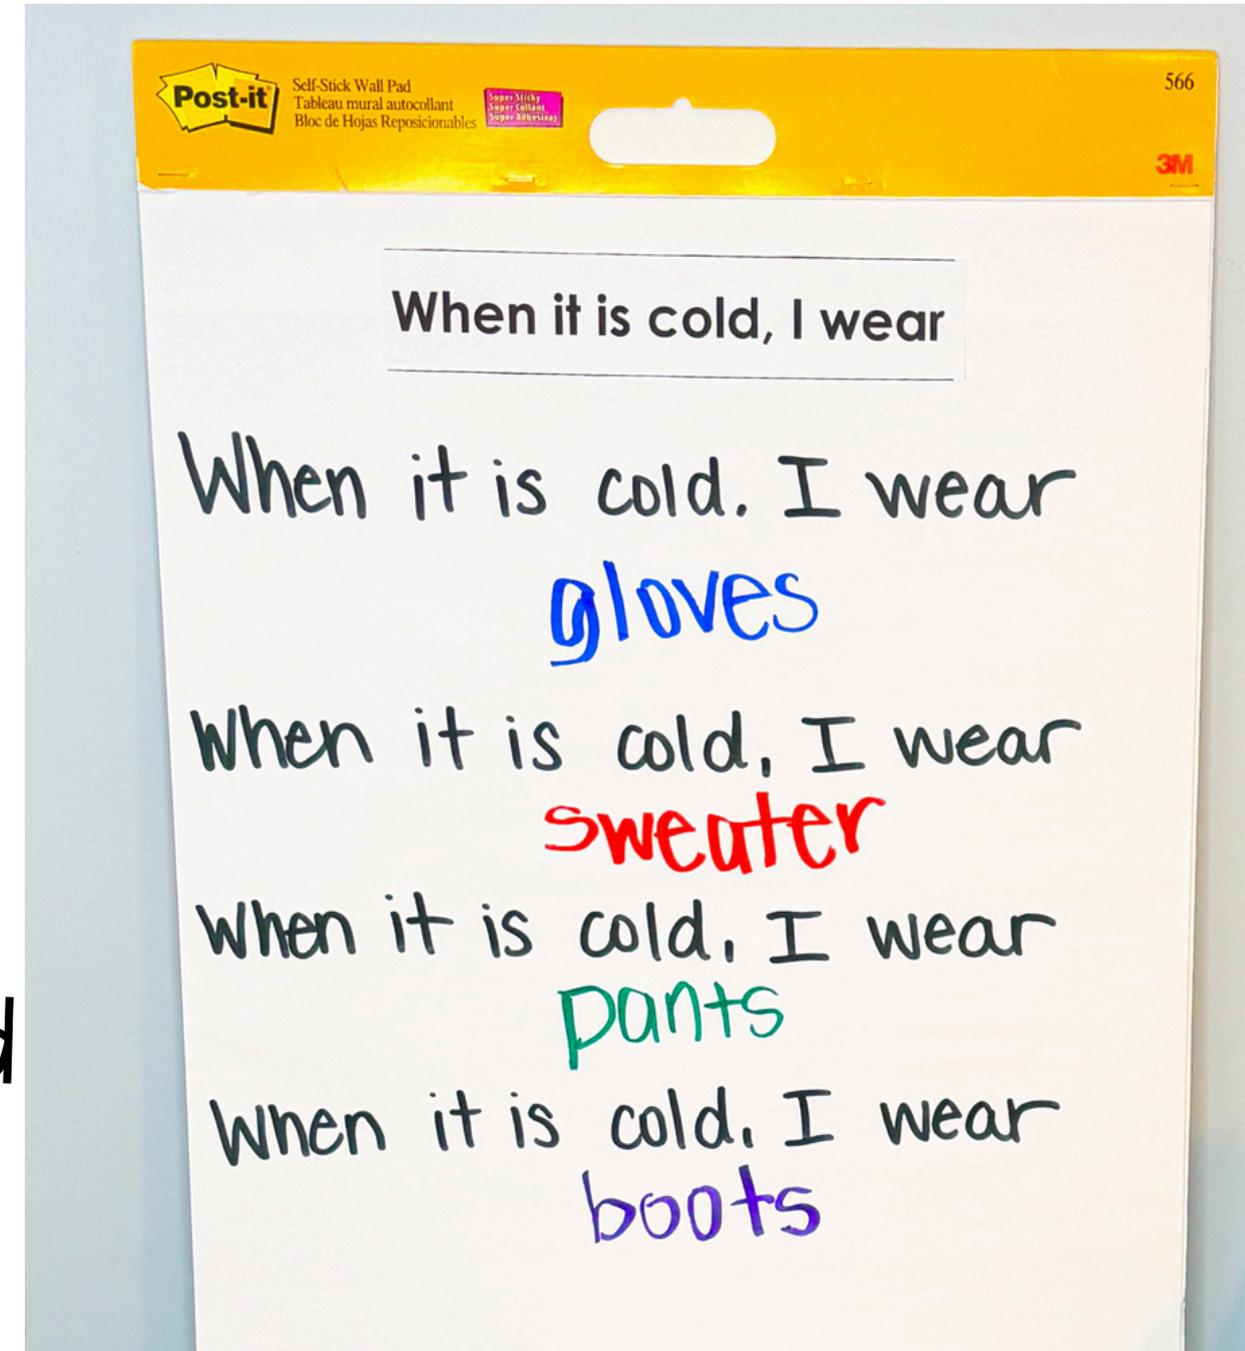

Teaches foundational writing

Helps students understand sentence structures

Research and evidence based for all types of learners

What

is included in this resource?

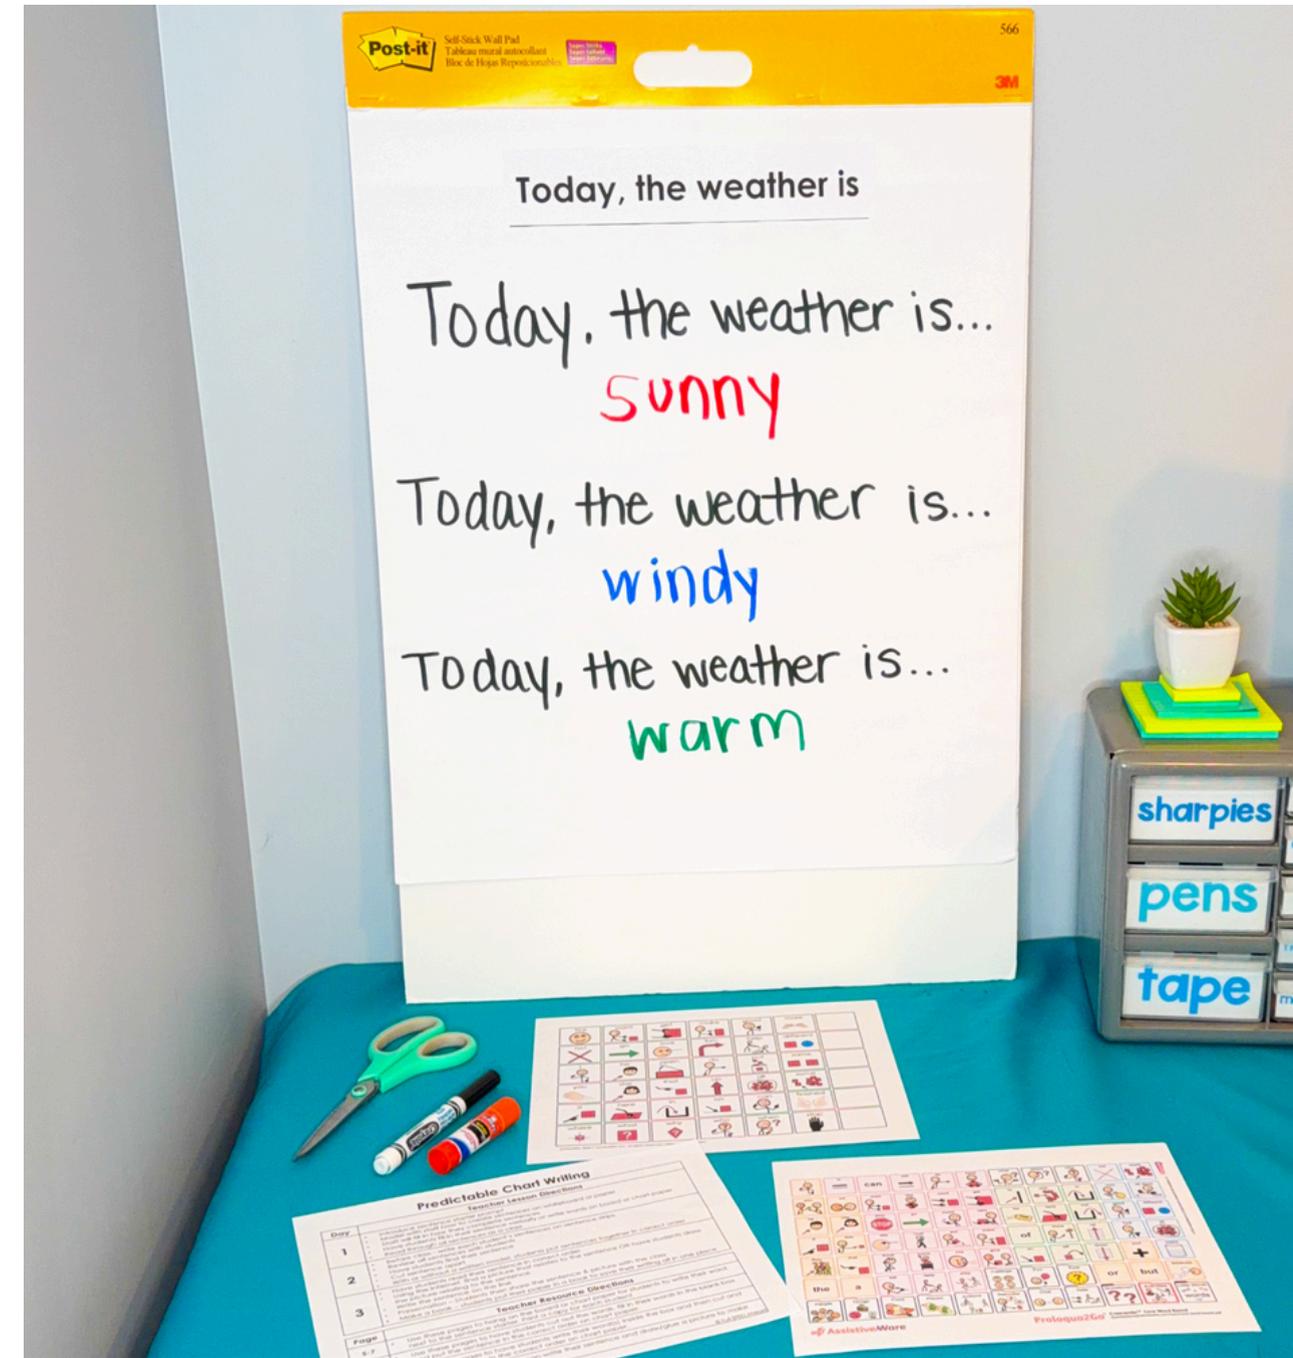

10 weeks of writing prompts

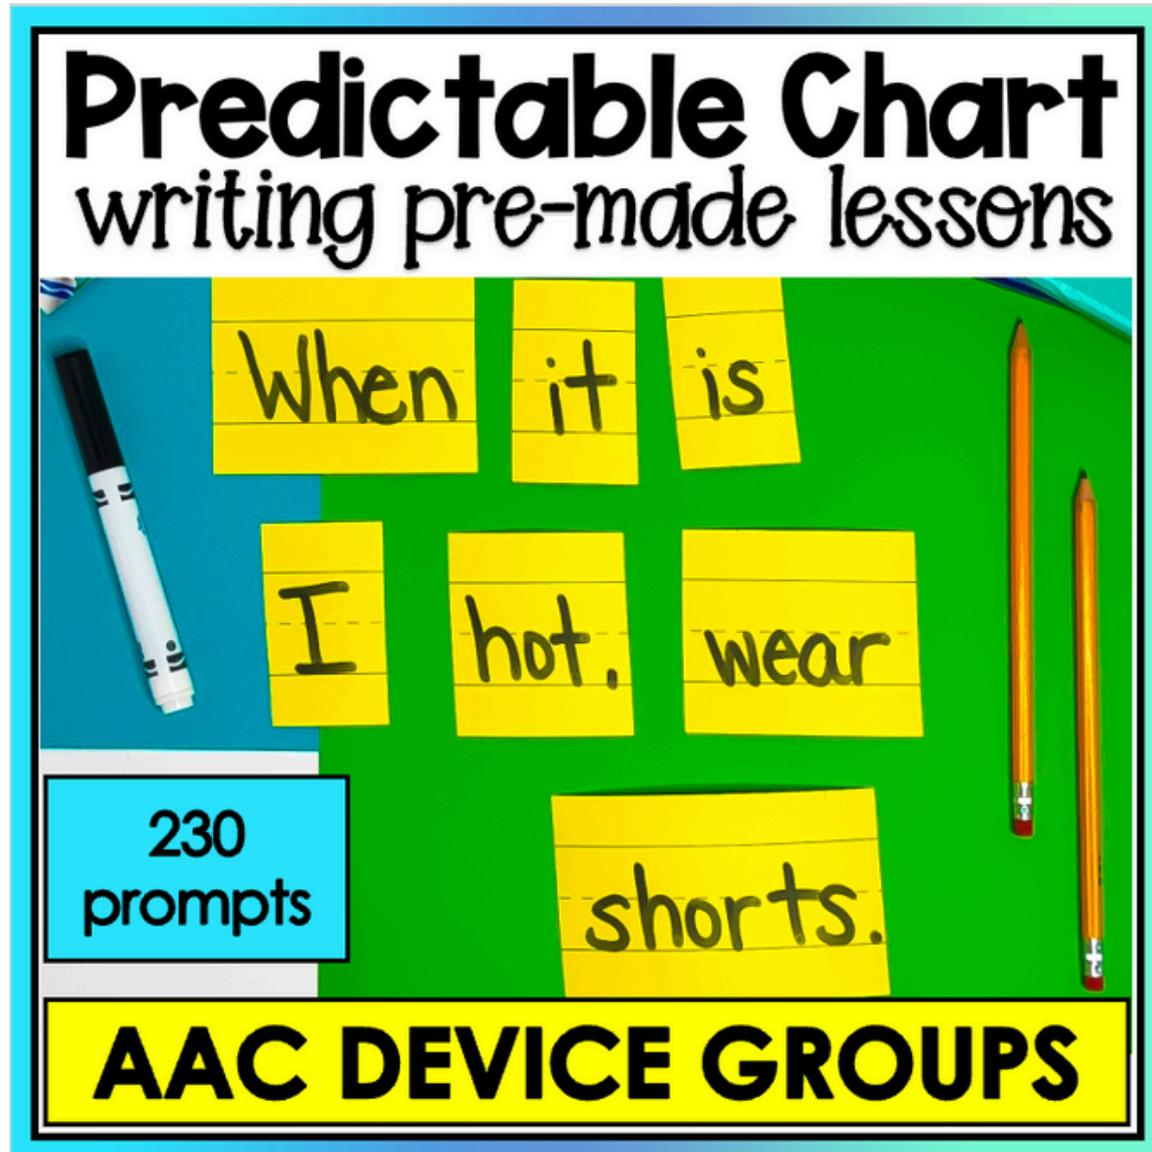

- Today, the weather is
- When it is cold, I wear
- When it is hot, I wear
- When it is cool, I wear
- When it is warm, I wear
- I stay inside when it is
- I go outside when it is
- In the summer, the weather is
- In the winter, the weather is
- My favorite weather is

How can I use this resource?

- 1 Use this for classroom modeling through writing
- 2 Use this for displaying student writing skills
- 3 Feel more confident in your student writing abilities and having materials for your students to use!

Did you see the bundle?

Predictable Chart
writing pre-made lessons

When it is
I hot, wear shorts.

230 prompts

AAC DEVICE GROUPS

The image shows a green background with yellow sticky notes containing the words 'When it is', 'I hot, wear', and 'shorts.'. There is a white marker on the left and two pencils on the right. A blue box in the bottom left corner says '230 prompts' and a yellow box at the bottom says 'AAC DEVICE GROUPS'.

Click to check it out!